Rob Eaton

As a Group Manager within the UK Fire Service, Rob was responsible for the efficient and effective management of a Local Authority Fire Safety Enforcement Team for over 8 years. He also gained valuable experience liaising with other professional bodies responsible for fire safety matters, including:

The Home Office

Building Controls

Architects

Solicitors

Licensing Bodies

Local Authorities

NHS Trusts

Other fire safety related specialists

Tony Leach

Amongst the variety of posts held by Tony during his career, he served as the senior training officer for The Gloucestershire Fire and Rescue Service. This gave him responsibility for all aspects of training for both uniformed and support staff throughout the Service. In addition he was the lead Officer responsible for implementing a new national Integrated Personal Development Strategy (IPDS) within Gloucestershire.

Some of the many areas of experience and skills developed over his career are:-

Recruitment and Selection
Initial and ongoing professional training
Equalities and Diversity
National Fire Service Examiner.

Tony has recently worked as a fire consultant in Kuwait, helping to develop a training centre for Firefighters within the petrochemical industry.

Our message is straightforward

We are here to assist you to maintain your business continuity and potential ... not just to satisfy your legal obligations. Identify and Manage fire risks.... Don't take them..... "

Our fire risk assessments are based on the requirements issued by the government and enforced by Local Authority Fire Services across the UK, so we only issue legally compliant documents that you can rely on.

If you are looking for sound professional advice, guidance or assistance, contact R&A Fire Risk Consultants Ltd for a no nonsense, cost effective solution for all your fire safety requirements.
